CHAPTER ONE

· 背景溯源 Project Background

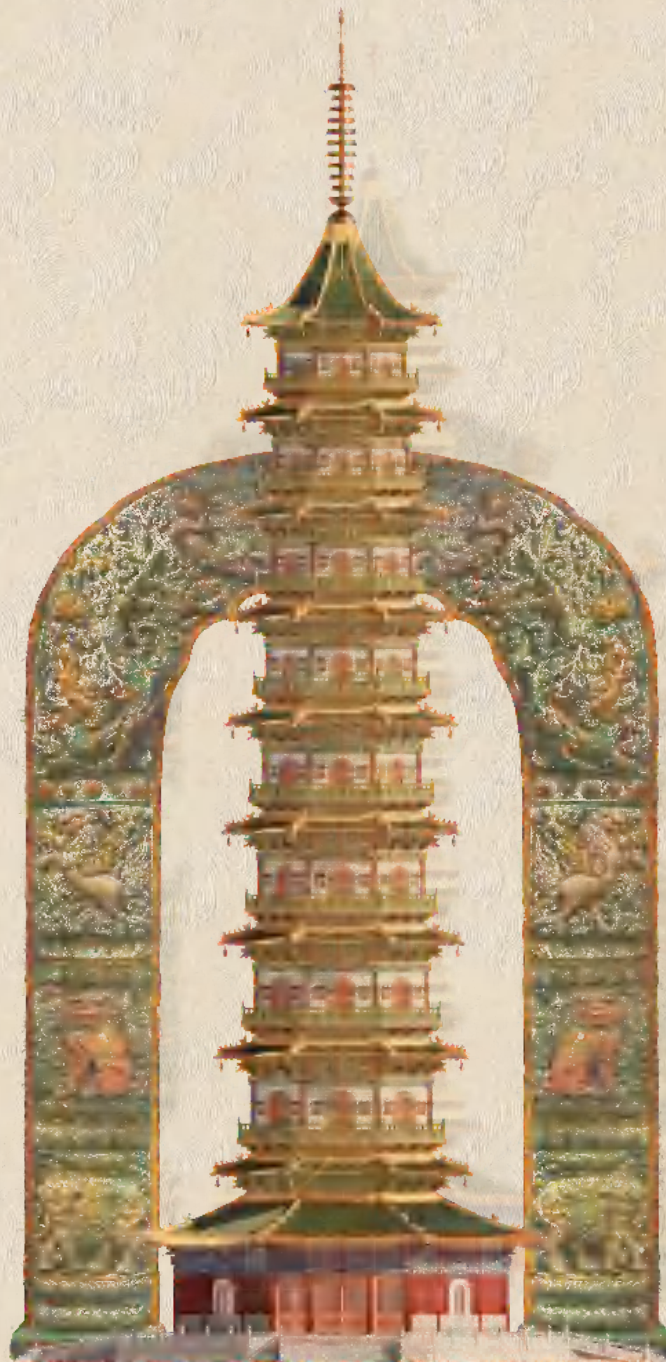

一直以来，在对于古代城市的发掘考证之中，水系作为民生之源，是城市发展与市井生活的重要见证。水系不仅是民生之源，也是贸易货运的重要通道。秦淮河作为南京城的源流之河，连通长江，是南京对外交流的重要窗口。正是因为发达的秦淮河水系，使得更多的文化、船队、商人来到了南京，为南京带来了多元文化的碰撞和更多的贸易机会。

在明成祖以及传入的佛教文化的交汇影响下，恢弘壮丽的大报恩寺最终建成。外来商人的贸易往来使得大报恩寺名扬四方，吸引了更多的朝拜者、外邦商人、旅客，同时极大程度上促进了文化的交流碰撞以及南京经济贸易的繁荣，影响着南京市民的生活。秦淮河沿岸的城市生活是大报恩寺文化映射的集中体现，大报恩寺在无形中影响着城市的变迁，是南京城市生活的见证者，也是参与者。

Throughout history, in the excavation and study of ancient cities, water systems have been a vital source of livelihood and an important witness to urban development and everyday life. Waterways were not only essential for daily life but also served as crucial trade and transport routes. The Qinhuai River, as the lifeblood of Nanjing, connects to the Yangtze River and serves as a significant gateway for Nanjing's external interactions. The well-developed Qinhuai River system attracted various cultures, fleets, and merchants to Nanjing, bringing with them cultural diversity and numerous trade opportunities.

Under the influence of Emperor Yongle and the introduction of Buddhist culture, the magnificent and grand Bao'en Temple was eventually built. The trade activities of foreign merchants made Bao'en Temple renowned far and wide, attracting many pilgrims, foreign merchants, and travelers. This significantly promoted cultural exchanges and the prosperity of Nanjing's economy and trade, affecting the lives of Nanjing's citizens.

The urban life along the banks of the Qinhuai River is a concentrated reflection of the cultural influence of Bao'en Temple. Bao'en Temple, in turn, subtly influences the city's transformation, serving as both a witness and a participant in Nanjing's urban life.

· 叙事内容 Narrative Contents

在这趟旅程中，8名游客将化身为乘船的船客，1名游客将化身为划船的船夫赵永泉，共同穿越到明朝时期的秦淮画舫，感受秦淮沿岸不同节日的民俗文化。旅程开始前，我们将用具体的叙事互动让游客代入赵永泉和船客的身份。

赵水泉是一名普通的船夫，白日划船载客载货，晚上就夜宿在他的乌篷船上，驻留在长干里旁的码头边。他的乌篷船常常是用来载客的，但每到节日庆典，他就会给各地的酒楼、店铺、寺庙送货。

故而游客在乘船游历的过程中，通过岸边居民对赵水泉的对话，游客将深入探索秦淮沿岸的民俗风情和人民生活。

我们以节日作为内容叙事的落点，选取6个典型的节日的特色风俗，融入节日特属的元素。

In this journey, 8 tourists will become passengers on the boat, and 1 tourist will become the boatman Zhao Yongquan, who rowed the boat, and traveled together to the Qinhuai painted boat in the Ming Dynasty to experience the folk culture of different festivals along the Qinhuai coast. Before the journey begins, we will use specific narrative interactions to immerse visitors in the role of Zhao Yongquan.

Zhao Yongquan is an ordinary boatman. He rowed the boat to carry passengers and goods during the day, and stayed on his black-sailed boat at the dock next to Changganli at night. His black-sailed boat is often used to carry passengers, but every time there is a festival celebration, he will deliver goods to restaurants, shops, and temples in various places.

Therefore, during the boat trip, tourists will deeply explore the folk customs and people's lives along the Qinhuai coast through the dialogue between the residents on the shore and Zhao Shuiquan.

We use festivals as the starting point of the content narrative, select 6 typical festivals with distinctive customs, and incorporate festival-specific elements.
