

参与式发展理论视角下文化遗产阐释路径探究——以“永不消失的遗产项目为例”

王雨葶 南京艺术学院

摘要：在文化遗产相关机构中，博物馆阐释实践革新对文化遗产的传播以及社会价值实现很重要，发掘文化遗产阐释新路径能回应公众文化参与需求，还可推动阐释实现创新，本研究在参与式发展理论的视角下开展，把其核心概念——促使边缘群体从被动接受者转变为主动创造者运用到文化遗产阐释路径的研究中，运用案例来做分析，提出参与式阐释三阶段的模型，给创新文化遗产阐释路径提供了可以实践操作的理论框架。研究着眼于如何凭借多元主体介入，达成文化遗产阐释从结果交付到过程共享的转型，采用参与式调查跟案例分析联合起来的研究方法，对南京大报恩寺遗址博物馆“永不消失的遗产”项目做了为期两年的深度追踪工作，参与式发展理论为文化遗产阐释给出了阐释过程共享的核心逻辑，关键是把阐释活动从封闭的操作转向对公众分阶段开放，在保证阐释质量的基础上达成文化权力的适度放开，这一路径为文化遗产阐释实践创新给予了从理论到操作的转化框架。

Abstract

The introduction of innovative change in the interpretation practices in museums is essential in cultural heritage institutions to deliver the cultural heritage in an effective manner and fulfill the social value of cultural heritage. Another benefit of exploring new methods of heritage interpretation is that it not only responds to the needs of the public to be engaged in cultural activities but encourages new forms of interpretation. Basing on the outlook of the participatory development theory, the given study incorporates its main idea, the ability to turn the passive receivers into the active creators, in the examination of the cultural heritage interpretation routes. The research with the help of case analysis suggests a three-phase model of participatory interpretation, which presents a theoretically based and practically used framework of innovation of the cultural heritage interpretation techniques. The study targets the role of the multi-stakeholder intervention in supporting the shift of heritage interpretation towards sharing process rather than delivering outcomes. A hybrid approach of participatory inquiry and case study was taken, and an intensive two-year follow-up study of the project of Digital Heritage on the Nanjing Great Bao'en Temple Site Museum was performed. The results show that the participatory development theory offers a fundamental rationale of mutual interpretive engagements in cultural heritage which highlight the transition of closed functioning towards gradual openness to the populace as well as the maintenance of the quality of interpretation by moderate delegation of cultural authority. This method provides a radical model between theory and practice of innovation in heritage interpretation.
